

No Split, Say Russian and Chinese Reds

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union opened a six-day "Congress for General Disarmament and Peace" in the Kremlin today with delegates treated to a pre-congress show of Soviet-Red Chinese unity.

Premier Khrushchev was to appear before several thousand delegates from 101 countries — 150 from the United States — to "dispel much of the fog generated by opponents of disarmament" in the words of a Pravda advance notice.

The Communist party newspaper set the theme for congress attacks on "American imperialism" and professions of solidarity between Communist China and the Soviet Union.

Sunday's Pravda carried a statement of Mao Tung, chief of the Red China delegation to the congress, hailing Khrushchev's July 2 pledge of Soviet support for the Chinese Communists if an attack from Formosa developed.

Talk of a split between the two countries' Mao Tung said, was invented by the Western press.

"It is well known to what lengths the reactionary press in the past has gone to invent alleged differences between China and the Soviet Union," Tung said.

"Comrade Khrushchev's statement completely demolishes the provocative rumors spread in the West. It shows again that the friendship between our great peoples, among all the countries of the socialist camp, is inviolable."

Tung said that despite Taiwan's "occupation" by U.S. military forces, Red China is for peaceful solution of disputes, adding, without elaboration, "We still offer the way of negotiations to the American government."

Tung is not listed as holding any government post but he has been active in government-sponsored peace council projects.

His statement emphasized Soviet-Chinese cooperation. It omitted the familiar formula employed up to two or three years ago in which the Soviet Union was hailed as the leader of the socialist camp.

Broilers and Egg Raisers Will Meet

Broiler and egg producers of this area will meet at Bodew High School Tuesday night to hear reports from the leadership conference held June 28-29 in Washington sponsored by the U. S. Poultry and Egg Producers Assn.

T. J. Silvey, president and Arthur M. Wimmell, vice president, of the Southwest Arkansas Poultry Producers Assn., were among the 10 representatives from Arkansas in attendance at the conference. Nineteen broiler and egg producing states were represented. Some 20 egg-producer members of the national association testified while in Washington before a congressional committee investigating the low price of commercial eggs.

The meeting at Bodew will begin with a potluck supper at 7:30 p.m. All interested poultry growers are invited.

Dad on 'Phone, Daughter Drowns

BRENTWOOD, N.Y. (AP)—The telephone rang and John Schuerling ran inside to answer it, leaving his 1-year-old daughter, Beverly, alone in the back yard. She climbed into a small pool and drowned in his absence Sunday.

The call was a wrong number.

Win Prospect Splits GOP in Factions

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are feuding and fighting among themselves with all the vigor of a party confident it will have some political cake to slice after the November balloting.

Traditionally, the minority tends to patch up its differences and present a united front. But with economic uneasiness in the country spurring their election hopes, Republicans have brought their brawling out for public display.

At the moment, Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire, former chairman of the Governors' Conference, is on the attack against Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, a potential bidder for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

In center stage party members are battling over the usefulness and objectives of the All Republican Conference and the National Republican Citizens Committee.

The cross-fire around these two party groups has been so hot that Chairman William E. Miller was constrained to write all GOP national committee members Sunday defending them. Miller has said Republicans cannot afford the luxury of disunity.

Miller said the All Republican Conference, which had its inaugural session at former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's Gettysburg, Pa., farm June 30 had been very well received.

As for the citizens group, headed by Eisenhower as honorary chairman, Miller said there is a firm agreement that it will cooperate closely with established party agencies and will avoid wasteful duplication and overlap.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee and a spokesman for conservatives, made it clear he wants nothing to do with the All Republican Conference. He is represented as feeling that the citizens committee is likely to siphon off funds needed by his group and others to help elect Republican candidates.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, running for re-election in New York as a liberal Republican, aimed some new licks of Goldwater and Republican Senate and House leaders Sunday in a television and radio program taped for New York stations. Javits defended the All Republican Conference and the citizens committee and said that a conference representing all segments of GOP thinking is the way "to open up our party to progressive ideas, to constructive things which have got to be done in this world."

Powell fired several blasts at Rockefeller last week's Governors' Conference in Hershey, Pa. Among other things, Powell announced he was considering bidding for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination. To get anywhere in that effort he probably would have to get himself re-elected and then challenge Rockefeller—if the latter is also re-elected—to contest with him in New Hampshire's 1964 presidential primary. Rockefeller seemed unworried at the prospect.

Tot's Voice Is Clue to Shooting

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—"Operator, can you help me? Will you call the police for me?" asked the small voice on the telephone.

"What's the matter, honey?" asked operator Nina Shaw early Sunday.

"There's blood all over my mommy's bedroom. There's a gun laying on the bed pointing at daddy. Mommy said something to me, but now she doesn't talk any more."

Alarmed, Mrs. Shaw asked the youngster for his name and address. Then Mrs. Shaw held 6-year-old Clancy Cottman on the line while she called police headquarters.

Moments later detectives arrived at the Cottman home. Clancy and his sister, Effie, 4, were at the door to admit them.

In the bedroom the detectives found Clarence Cottman, resident manager of the Alexandria office of Eastman Dillon, Union Securities & Co., shot to death. Beside him was the unconscious body of his wife, Beatrice. A 45-caliber Colt automatic from which two shots had been fired was on the bed at Clancy's feet.

The 62-year-old broker had been shot once in his right temple. He was pronounced dead on the scene. His 43-year-old wife had been wounded by a slug that pierced her left cheek and lodged in the left side of her head.

She was taken to Alexandria Hospital where she told police that she and her husband had gotten up about 4 a.m. for a cup of coffee when Clancy complained he was unable to sleep.

Mrs. Cottman said she left him downstairs, returned to the bedroom and fell asleep. "I just don't know what happened," police quoted her as saying.

Crossett Co. Is Bought by Ga.-Pacific

NEW YORK (AP)—The Georgia-Pacific Corp. of Portland, Ore., has acquired 99.4 per cent of the 2,289,102 outstanding shares of the Crossett Co. of Crossett, Ark.

Georgia-Pacific said Sunday the acquisition was assured through an offer to buy Crossett shares at $55 each. That price would mean a total payment of about $125 million.

Both companies make lumber, paper and other forest products.

About 80 per cent of the stock of the Crossett Co. was held by three families. In April Georgia-Pacific made an agreement with one of the families to purchase about 26 per cent of the company's shares. The other two families agreed to sell their stock and then a public offer to buy more stock resulted in the final 99.4 per cent interest acquired by Georgia-Pacific.

The Crossett Co. owns more than half a million acres of timberland in Arkansas and Louisiana.

Georgia-Pacific made no immediate announcement how it plans to operate Crossett but one spokesman said it was possible Crossett would become a division of Georgia-Pacific.

The Arkansas firm also owns six paper products companies and natural gas reserves.

It had sales totaling $50 million during 1961, compared to Georgia-Pacific's sales of $238 million.

Brazil Calls for End to Long Crisis

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP)—President Joao Goulart called on Brazil's Chamber of Deputies today to approve Francisco Brochado da Rocha as prime minister and end the 13-day-old political crisis which caused rioting that killed 11 persons.

Some deputies were said to oppose Rocha, a provincial official in Rio Grande do Sul State where he is a close associate of left-leaning Gov. Leonel Brizola.

It marked Goulart's third attempt to form a new government since Prime Minister Tancredio Neves and his Cabinet resigned June 2 to be eligible under the constitution to run in the October congressional elections.

The crisis has been marked by food riots and a general strike by labor unions demanding a prime minister favorable to their cause.

Farm Bureau Board Meet at 8 Tuesday

The Hempstead County Farm Bureau Board of Directors will meet at 806 W. 4th St. on Tuesday, July 10 at 8 p.m., according to Warren Butler, president.

In making the announcement, Mr. Butler

Rev. Shaddox Minister of Year in State

Rev. James Shaddox

Rev. James Shaddox Hope, has been named Rural Minister of the Year in Arkansas by The Progressive Farmer Magazine. Spring Hill Methodist Church is his home church, but he also pastors five circuit churches.

He is among 14 ministers from the south honored by The Progressive Farmer and Emory University School of Theology, Atlanta, Ga. This is the 14th year that outstanding ministers have been recognized.

Rev. Shaddox is a farm boy by birth. In his high school days he was active in FFA work and was awarded the honor of Future Farmer of Arkansas.

He has been on the Spring Hill Circuit for the past five years. The Circuit takes in five rural churches: Spring Hill, Oak Grove, Sardis Union, Hinton and Fulton. Total membership is 281.

Rev. Shaddox accepted the pastorate of the Spring Hill Circuit when still in college. According to the August issue of the magazine, he drove 100 miles a day to Henderson State Teachers College, preached every weekend, visited three hospitals daily and visited in homes of members of his five churches. He was initiated into Alpha Chi and Kappa Delta Phi honorary societies. Later he entered Southern Methodist University in Dallas and returned to Arkansas on weekends to fulfill pastoral duties.

Mr. Shaddox is active in community and school activities. Certificates of recognition will be presented to Rural Ministers of the Year at a banquet at Emory on July 11.

There are an estimated 2,150 languages in the world.

Eureka Springs Vote Reversed

EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The outcome of a $140,000 bond issue has been reversed by the Carroll County election Commission at Eureka Springs. The original count showed the issue approved by 321 to 319. On review of the ballots after protest of opponents, 25 ballots were thrown out, defeating the issue by a vote of 309 against to 30 for. Mayor Ray Walker said the city would not appeal but may offer the issue again in 90 days.

Hot Weekend for State's Politicians

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The plot of the Arkansas gubernatorial mystery began to thicken this weekend as candidates fanned out over the state to seek support.

The candidates rested Sunday, apparently readying themselves for the nearly three week of the remaining campaign.

But Saturday they actively hurled charges and countercharges.

Vernon Whitten issued a blistering attack on what he termed corruption in the Faubus administration.

"During the past eight years, county officials, state officials and others have yielded to the lures, enticements and appeals of the present governor until many of them are now facing an aroused electorate at the polls and incensed taxpayers in the courts," Whitten said.

He also criticized what he termed laxity of enforcement of gambling laws in the state. Whitten said if he is elected he will push for legislation for a constitutional convention.

"At that time," he said, "I will present the Hot Springs (gambling) problem in the light of true and realistic facts as they exist."

Whitten said the only way to do this is to allow people to come before the convention and express their opinion.

If their testimony indicates that a liberalization of the gambling laws is desired, Whitten said, he would be for the change. Whitten said he would strictly enforce existing laws until that time, however, if he is elected.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus continued his running battle with Sid McMath and Dale Alford Saturday.

Speaking at Conway, Faubus said, "If you want the soldiers and the military to take over the schools again, Sid is your candidate." Faubus has, in previous talks, charged that McMath was instrumental in bringing federal troops to Little Rock during its 1957 integration crisis.

He again termed Alford a victim of a trap set by his own enemies and said Kenneth Coffelt is "an interesting candidate. You ought to hear him if you can."

Faubus made two new points in his talk. He predicted there would be an increase in old-age benefits during the next administration, even if he is not elected. And he said he believed the action of the state Democratic Committee in excluding Republicans from voting in the July 31 primary was designed to help Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., more than anyone else.

A committee member protested the action last Thursday, charging it was taken solely to aid Faubus.

McMath, speaking at a North Little Rock rally, termed the committee move, "the most shocking development of the campaign."

He said it was "a move to deny the right to cast a ballot in this summer's elections to tens of thousands of Arkansas citizens who have paid their poll tax and are legally qualified to vote."

Ostensibly, he said, the committee move was designed to keep Republicans from voting in the primary, "but actually the intent is to drive out of the primaries the independents, States Righters and persons who plan to come into the Democratic party for the first time."

McMath was sharply critical of the 26 proxy votes held and exercised by the committee chairman in the move. Only 12 persons were at the meeting where the action was taken. McMath said the chairman "came loaded."

At Blytheville, Alford accused Faubus of using deceit to gain political favor and said the governor was "not the same man we all voted for 7 1/2 years ago."

Alford challenged Faubus to prove that the Women's Emergency Committee has endorsed him and again demanded that the governor meet him in a debate. Coffelt, in a statewide radio address from the Benton County courthouse, said the tax burden in the state has risen from $110,000,533 in 1955, when Faubus took office, to $169,478,476 in 1961.

Despite that, he said, the people still weren't getting their money's worth. He said Faubus failed to tell people that the accomplishments of his administration were paid for with their tax money.

He attacked the Democratic Committee ruling on the primaries and the ruling of the U.S. Supreme Court in banning a prayer from New York public schools.

Coffelt said he has already made 218 stops during his campaign and plans 50 more next week.

David A. Cox was scheduled to speak but did not appear at the North Little Rock rally, where McMath again hit at the Democratic Committee action and Whitten plugged for a state act to prevent employees from taking part in political campaigns.

Sidelights of the campaign during the weekend were the visit to Faubus by 79-year-old admiral from Maricopa, Calif., a "new twist" record named "The Whitten Twist" released by Whitten and the preview for news media of a 30-minute film documenting the life of McMath.

The premiere of the film was to have been held at a $10-a-plate fund-raising breakfast in Little Rock today.

The visitor was Mrs. Pearl Lewis Green, who says she has admired Faubus ever since the 1957 integration crisis. She said she has corresponded with him since then and flew to Hawaii for the National Governor's Conference last year to meet him. But Faubus did not attend.

She finally met Faubus at Conway, where she was taken by campaign officials.

Whitten said he didn't particularly like the twist tune, but admired the idea. He said he preferred the flip side of the 45 rpm record, titled, "Every White for Whitten."

All Escape In Crash of Airliner

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A Continental Airlines turbo-prop Viscount caught fire and crashed three minutes after taking off from Amarillo air terminal Sunday.

The 13 passengers and 3 crew members escaped minutes before several explosions rocked the wreckage. Several passengers suffered cuts and bruises in the wheels-up landing. They were released after treatment.

Capt. Lawrence blauratis, El Paso, Tex., said he and First Officer E. C. Gorman, also of El Paso, knew the plane was in trouble within a minute after they took off on a light to Lubbock, Tex.

Neither Lauratis nor Gorman had time to make an announcement over the public address system but hostess Linda Howard, sensing the danger, walked calmly up and down the aisle reassuring the passengers.

Miss Howard, who has been a hostess 14 months, said, "I just asked God to help get the plane down as safely as possible."

"I don't know if I was really afraid or not. There was no time for that."

She said she reached the rear of the plane seconds before the crash, "fell into an empty seat and did not have time to put the seat belt on."

Because the fire was in the right wing, Miss Howard decided to get the passengers out an emergency door in the rear. Harold V. Hunter, a passenger from Gardena, Calif., helped her open the door.

The plane traveled 2 1/2 miles from the end of the runway before the pilot set it down in a recently harvested wheat field.

Gene Cagle of Amarillo, who was rabbit hunting, said the plane flew over him.

"I saw fire on that one (right) engine," Cagle said. "It was smoking and burning. I wondered if they were supposed to do that. Then the fire began getting bigger and the plane nosed down."

The plane, which can carry 60 passengers and cost about $1 million, was destroyed.

Nuclear Blast Hit by Russians

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio reported the U.S. high-altitude nuclear blast today with the comment: "The crime has been committed."

Delayed Blast Is Due Tuesday

CAMP MERCURY, Nev. (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission plans to set off a twice-delayed nuclear blast Tuesday, weather permitting.

The blast, third in the current series at the Nevada site, will be detonated only a few feet above the ground and will have an explosive power equal to 20,000 tons of TNT—or less.

Churchill Has a Good Night

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill had a comfortable night, officials of Middlesex Hospital said today.

Messages of greeting continued to pour in for the 87-year-old wartime prime minister, recovering from a broken thigh.

Alford Plane Is Delayed by Storm

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Rep. Dale Alford's airplane was reported overdue at Texarkana Sunday night, stopped at Arkadelphia to wait out a thunderstorm, it was learned today.

Officials both at Texarkana and at Alford's headquarters became concerned when the plane did not land on time. Late Saturday night Alford's headquarters said it had learned the candidate was safe, but did not know details of the situation.

Bob Glover, pilot of the twin-engine plane, said he had no trouble.

Alford and his brother Boyce left Little Rock at 6:15 p.m. Sunday and were scheduled to arrive in Texarkana at 7:30.

Alford met with Miller County supporters with a coffee this morning. His schedule today calls for appearances at Calico Rock, Yellville, Jasper and Harrison.

JFK Urges Exercise for Children

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — President Kennedy, citing "frightening statistics" showing one fourth of the nation's school children cannot pass a simple physical fitness test, urges all schools to require children to take more exercise.

Kennedy, who made the appeal in a statement issued at his Cape Cod summer residence Sunday, reported some encouragement in surveys indicating that more boys and girls were able to pass tests in schools with organized fitness programs, and that fewer failed after a year of physical education.

"There is strong evidence," Kennedy said, "that the threat to the strength of young America can be overcome. Yet, the shocking fact remains that at least 60 per cent of our children do not participate in a daily program of vigorous physical activity. This conclusively shows how much remains to be done, and this is the critical time of the year."

The President urged that school officials' plans for fall semesters include programs "that contribute to the health and well-being of all our boys and girls."

Kennedy's statement was based on a report submitted by Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma football coach and his consultant on youth fitness.

El Dorado to Get Legion Convention

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — El Dorado was chosen Sunday as the site for the Arkansas Department of the American Legion's 1963 state convention.

The dates are July 19-21.

The department's executive committee also selected Little Rock for the mid-winter meeting which will be held Dec. 1-2.

Walter H. Schrader of Hot Springs, the state commander, announced the following one-year appointments:

State Rep. Taihot Field Jr., Hope, judge advocate; Russell Woods, Little Rock, finance officer; Freeman Mize, Magazine, service officer and Earnest Goebler, McGehee, sergeant-at-arms.

Fred Williams of Newport was reappointed as state baseball director for the Legion.

Named to fill committee vacancies were Hoy Haight, Huntsville, policy committee; Bob Legan, Russellville, finance committee; and Leslie Speck, Holly Grove, Boys State committee.

Rock Isle First Target of the Reds

By FORREST EDWARDS

KAOTENG ISLAND, off China (AP) — If Red China attacks the north Formosa Strait this summer, this spit of rock rising out of the sea may be the first target.

Through a stove-pipe sized telescope, this correspondent watched Communist troops working on one of several new big gun positions directly opposite this Nationalist outpost island. The distance: four miles.

For Nationalist Chinese troops, Kaoteng stands sentry just off the tip of Red China's Huangchi Peninsula, which throws a thin protecting arm around a Communist navy base in Lo-yen Bay. Lo-yen would be a major marshaling area for a Communist amphibious assault.

Closest to the mainland of any of the islands in the Nationalist-held Matsu complex, tiny Kaoteng (seven-tenths of a square mile) is a place from which to watch the enemy and a place from which to fight if necessary.

Like the rest of the Nationalist offshore islands, Kaoteng is dug into solid rock. It withstood a 3,000 shell bombardment in 1958 without major damage and is in far better condition today.

Rock caverns deep below the surface are piled high with food and ammunition. Fresh water is more trouble.

Deadlock in Canada Feud Continues

REGINA, Sask. (AP)—Provincial government officials and striking doctors remained deadlocked today on the ninth day of the doctors' strike against the Saskatchewan medical care plan as a mass protest rally was being organized here for Wednesday.

The government has not commented on the rally sponsored by the Keep-the-Doctors committees. But Prime Minister Woodrow Lloyd has asked residents to avoid demonstrations.

A spokesman for the doctors said they wanted citizens' support but did not seek violence.

Most of the province's 700 practicing physicians have refused to work under the act since it came into force July 1. About 200 doctors are providing emergency service at 35 designated hospitals. The act is designed to provide medical care for everyone, to be paid for by assessments of $12 a year for single persons and $24 for families, and by general taxation. There is freedom of choice in doctors but the doctors must accept state-regulated fees from the government.

U. S. Looses Its Largest Air Bomb

By CLAUDE BURGETT

HONOLULU (AP)—With a flash that lit the Hawaiian Islands like a giant flashbulb, a powerful nuclear device exploded high above Johnston Island, 750 miles southwest of here Sunday night.

It marked success by the United States on its third try to explode a nuclear warhead carried aloft by a giant Thor missile.

The blast—most powerful of the current test series—was carried aloft to an altitude of about 200 miles by the Thor missile. It took 15 minutes for the rocket to reach firing height.

Communications in many Pacific areas were blanked immediately. Some Honolulu radio stations were washed out by interference, but returned to the air shortly.

The Japanese Overseas Telephone and Telegraph Co. reported transpacific telephone connections with Honolulu, Oakland, Calif., and Buenos Aires were knocked out right after the explosion.

Service was restored a short time later, a company spokesman said.

The Thor was the same type missile that had failed twice before in efforts to explode the big nuclear warhead.

The nuclear warhead was described as in the megaton-plus range—equivalent to more than one million tons of TNT. It was exploded at an altitude of about 200 miles, unofficial sources said.

A task force spokesman, asked if the blast was considered a success, smiled and said, "Certainly."

It was believed the success will raise U.S. prestige in the missile field, after the two successive failures at Johnston Island.

There was no immediate word on whether there will be further tests at the antenna-studded island. Before the shot, it was speculated that the high-altitude series might be curtailed because of the many delays.

A cloud cover over the Hawaiian Islands, 750 miles northeast of Johnston, blocked a view of the fireball. The flash penetrated the cloud banks, lighting the Hawaiian chain in a brilliant glare.

The initial flash was lightning-like, first greenish and fading to blue. The glare was followed by an orange glow which tinted clouds with a halo visible for more than five minutes. Colors ranging from yellow to bright red mingled like a watercolor sunset.

Officials at Joint Task Force 3 headquarters viewing the blast from a hill overlooking Pearl Harbor were elated.

Twenty-five minutes after the flash was seen, the task force issued a terse announcement.

"A nuclear device carried aloft on a Thor booster was detonated at an altitude of hundreds of kilometers over Johnston Island at 11 p.m. HST—5 a.m. EST Monday. Detonation was in the megaton range."

Tourists and residents who had flocked to beaches and hillside in vain all week appeared pleased with the show. Many stood openmouthed, others gasped as the flash lit up the sky.

HONOLULU (AP)—The United States today exploded its biggest nuclear device miles above tiny Johnston Island in its third attempt at a high-altitude blast during the current Pacific test series.

Joint Task Force officials made no immediate announcement but a gigantic flash was visible here. A mighty Thor missile rocketed the powerful warhead some 200 miles high into clear skies over the antenna-dotted island.

The flash followed the thunderous megaton-plus blast, equivalent to more than one million tons of TNT. Tourists and residents in Hawaii some 750 miles northeast of the detonation could see the flash from hills and shores.

U.S. missile prestige rode with today's shot because two previous attempts at a high-altitude test failed and repeated delays marred the series.

Yearns For Son
He Forsook

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen A couple of years ago I went with a girl who was the moonlight and roses type: silvery blonde hair, blue eyes and fair skin. As the Victorians say, I took advantage of her. Our little boy would now be two years old.

Looking back, I can see I loved his mother but feared to assume the obligations and responsibilities of marriage. After promising to marry her, I fled like a coward, causing her and her family much grief. Being an unmitigated fool, I took up with a divorcee who had two children; seeking in vain the true love which had been mine for the asking.

I saw our boy when he was an infant and my mind won't be still. I want to know him. I also want more children—a family, I guess. I would throw myself at the feet of my old girl and beg her forgiveness, were it not for her family. Frankly, I fear them. They would have helped us earlier; in fact offered to. But they must despise me now.

There daughter is a lady and I guess she's bringing our boy up well. Her parents help her. I see her with the baby from a distance every once in awhile and it's like a stab in the heart. How can I win her back? —Lonely Bachelor

Dear Lonely: The surest way to win your girl back is through her parents. Put yourself in their place. What guarantee is there that you won't walk out a second time? Are you financially able to support a family? How long since you've seen the divorcee? Are there other women in your life? Have you been affiliated with any church or organization a sufficient length of time to indicate stability of character? In other words, what have you made of yourself?

If you can answer these questions to the satisfaction of the girl's mother and father, you may have a chance. If you feel remorseful, say so. Give an honest account of yourself. Ask their daughter's forgiveness and, as further evidence of sincerity, offer to go on probation till you really prove yourself. Of course, there is the chance that she may no longer love you. In that case it's up to you to convince her she's wrong, by continuing to do what is right.

Dear Helen: Life has been a dead end for me. My father died when I was seven and my stepfather left Mother with two children, me and one other, when I was 12. As a consequence, my childhood was burdened with responsibility. I shall be 21 in September, am not bad looking, have had many lovers but am still unhappy. Ever since high school I've wanted to join the WAVES. Do you think the Navy would be the answer for me? Or am I just thinking of it as an escape from the pettiness of small town life? I do so much want to find happiness. —Snapshot

Dear Snapshot: Happiness usually lies near at hand rather than far away. Knowing nothing of your trailing or tastes, it's difficult to say whether or not joining the WAVES is for you. Certainly it's no Foreign Legion, if that's what you have in mind. Have you ever traveled any distance by water? Can you accept discipline? If your answer to both questions is "Yes," then write to Naval Personnel for Women, Navy Department, Washington, D. C., for further information.

Dear Helen: The girls in our

Rim Blows Off Tire, Killing Man

MARKED TREE, Ark. (AP)—Samuel Lassiter, 31, of Marked Tree was killed Saturday night at a Marked Tree service station when he was struck by the rim of a tire being filled with air.

Police said a tire on a truck-trailer rig had been repaired and attendants were putting the tire on the truck when the rim blew off and struck Lassiter in the head. He died about an hour later in a doctor's office at Marked Tree.

Lassiter, formerly of Monette, was going to ride the truck to California to look for a new job.

TALEQUAH, Okla. (AP)—Kenneth B. Brus, 21, of Walcott, Iowa, was drowned Saturday while swimming with three companions in Tenkiller Lake. He was stationed at Fort Chaffee.

Brus' body was found about one hour after he disappeared near Cookson Bend, 17 miles south of Talequah.

Earl Spessard of Hendrix Dies

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—Dr. Earl Augusta Spessard, 74, a retired biology professor at Hendrix College, died Sunday at his home in Conway after a long illness. Dr. Spessard taught at Hendrix for 26 years before retiring in 1956. Prior to joining Hendrix he taught at Ouachita Baptist College, Arkadelphia. Survivors include the widow.

crowd (we're all students at the same boarding school), are having an argument about one of our group who goes with a married man. I feel she should give up this man. The others see nothing wrong in her behavior. They say the man is very nice and therefore all right for her to date. To me marriage vows are sacred. Am I old-fashioned in believing that the girl is behaving in a scandalous way? —Old-Fashioned

Dear Old-Fashioned: To condemn this situation is as good as saying, "So what? If I had the chance I'd do the same." Nobody is for a home-wrecker; he she girl or woman, nor for a husband who is both philanderer and cradle-snatcher. If he were contemplating divorce, your school chum a grown woman and this the great love of their lives, that would be different. But this is not the case. The girl needs help, not criticism. A heart-to-heart talk might save her future misery provided you avoid the holier-than-thou approach.

Wimbledon Sees String of Upsets

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—It was a Wimbledon of upset results and long after Mrs. Karen Hantze Susman had been crowned women's champion on Saturday, the arguments went on around the All-England Tennis Club over the shock defeat of the mighty which staggered the 76th tournament.

Mrs. Susman of Chula Vista, Calif. was seeded eighth. Mrs. Vera Sukova of Czechoslovakia, whom she defeated in the final, was not seeded at all. In earlier rounds, the three top seeds - Margaret Smith of Australia, Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., and Maria Bueno of Brazil - were all sensationally toppled.

Mrs. Susman, at 19 a shrewd and calculating judge of the game, summed it up like this before heading home for a week's rest Sunday.

"There are two kinds of pressure on tennis players. There is the pressure put on you by public adulation and press hallyhoo and there is the pressure that comes from within from nervous tension and worry."

"I think Margaret was a victim of the first kind and Darlene and Maria fell to the second kind."

Rod Laver of Australia swept to the men's title from the 'second straight year and proved himself without doubt the world's finest amateur player. Previously this year, he had won the Australian and French titles. Now he needs to win at Forest Hills to equal Don Budge's unique grand slam achieved in 1938.

U. S. Track Women Meet the Russians

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The American women's track and field team takes on the Russian counterparts July 21-22 in Palo Alto after a warmup that left six battered records in the Coliseum dust.

In the warmup - The National AAU Championships Sunday night - Olympic champ Wilma Rudolph Ward easily kept her title in the 100-yard dash. And another Olympic champion, Olga Connolly, broke her own discus record.

Wilma ripped off a 10.8 in the finals after tying her own record at 10.7 in a prelim. She said she felt a slight knee pull in her right leg in the final but didn't consider it serious.

Mrs. Connolly tossed the discus 172 feet 2 inches and smashed her 159-6 1/2 mark.

Willie White of Chicago leaped 20 feet 3 inches to shatter the AAU broad jump mark of 20-1.

The 44-yard relay record fell to Tennessee State Athletic Club's Wyoma Tyus, Wilma Rudolph Ward, Edith McGuire and Vivien Brown in 46.0.

A Chicago foursome of Norma Harris, Marnie Rawlons, Willie White and Carl Bush cracked the 880-yard medley relay mark with a 1:47.1 clocking.

Vivien Brown, a teammate of Wilma Ward at Tennessee State, ran the 220 in 24.1, wiping out the American record of 24.3, set by Stella Walsh in 1935 and equalled by Lucinda Williams in 1958.

Leah Bennett of the University of Hawaii broke her own AAU and American 800 record with a blistering 2:12.3.

Fights Last Night

BRESCIA, Italy - Santa Amanti, 189, Italy, outpointed Brian London, 205, Britain, 10.
 BUENOS AIRES, Argentina - Chuchio Hernandez, Mexico, drew with Carlos Rodriguez, Argentina, 10 (weights unavailable).

A. Davis of 414 S. Hazel Street, died in a local hospital Monday, July 9. Funeral arrangements are incomplete and will be announced by Hicks Funeral Home.

Golden Anniversary Observed
 The Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Walker were honored at their Golden Wedding Anniversary Saturday, July 7 at their home, 403 S. Laurel St. Hope. The table bearing the three tiered wedding cake was covered with a beautiful white cloth with 12 inch gold stripes down the center and on both sides. On the table was a floral arrangement of daisies and ferns. Cake and frappe were served by Mrs. Corinne Walker of San Antonio, Texas and Mrs. Eleanor Walker of Los Angeles, the daughters-in-law of the honored couple and the wives of Lawrence and Henry Walker respectively.

Many friends came from 6 to 9 to honor the couple, residents of Hope for 47 years. Other family members present for the occasion were Charles Walker, a son, of Blytheville, Doris Walker, Ronald Walker, Kenneth and Winfred Walker, grandchildren.

Out of town guests included Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Lewis of Camden and Mrs. Pauline Lyon of Morrilton, mother of Mrs. Eleanor J. Walker.

Howard de Howard was humming as he sat before the make-up table in his basement. It was the very same table he'd had when he'd been famous in Hollywood. He stared at his "bloody" face in the mirror with outright admiration. Then he reluctantly began to wipe off the make-up. He almost wished these attempts to rob his art treasures would happen more often. It was so simple to spot a crook in a bar, or in the park, once you mentioned having a Pica so. Since most of his time was spent at the window, he had been aware his little house was being "cased."

"You city slickers can't fool us like that! My neighbor Zeke already bought it!"

WORK OF ART
 By STEVE APRIL

Powers paced the one-room cottage slowly. He was a shabby middle-aged man in worn tweeds, with a mild face, and the look of an underpaid college professor. At exactly 2:39 p. m. he heard a car drive up. Powers looked up from his watch with a nod of approval. He was a precise man with a timetable for a way of life.

Now, with mounting excitement he waited for Benson. Seconds later Benson came bursting into the cottage. Young, lean and muscular, Benson was the bursting-in type, a roughneck man of action. He came in empty-handed, raced to the one closet, and began to pack a small bag.

"Right on the second," Powers said. "Where are the Picasso, the Renoir? I trust you weren't stupid enough to leave them out in the car or . . . ? Why are you packing?"

"Shut up!" Powers took exactly three small steps, which placed him within easy reach of an extra-large bread knife.

He said softly, "Benny, kindly do not tell me to shut up - not when there's a hundred thousand involved - a lifetime of ease. I gave you a break, let you in on a perfect deal I'd thoroughly cashed. I demand to know . . . ?"

"Yeah, you sure cased it! The guy wasn't out, like you said he'd be - he was sitting right behind the crazy picture!" Benson shouted, hurling his few clothes into the bag. "We blew the whole deal."

"Howard de Howard was at home?" Powers repeated, delicate fingers resting near the knife handle.

"Aw, knock it off! I know the story: you met him over a beer and he told you about owning one of these real pictures - this here Picasso, and . . ."

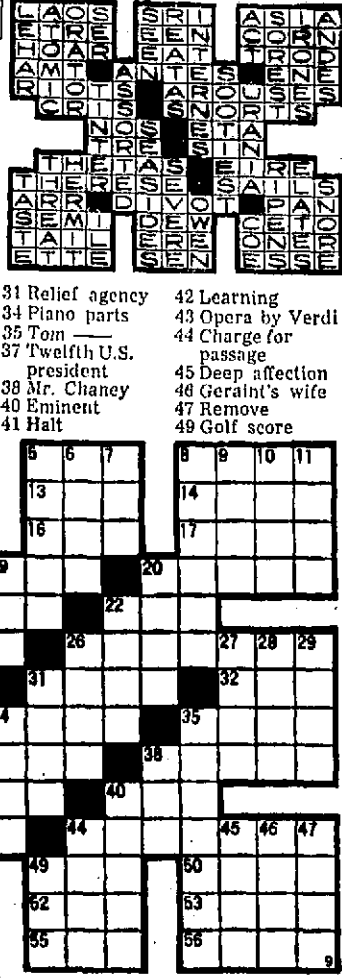

"Indeed he has them, genuine work of art. I saw them."

Yanks Take Over Lead; Whip Twins

By BOB GIEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The rules were reversed, but the results were the same: the Yankees win.

Singles-batters Bobby Richardson and Tom Tresh—who have 15 home runs between them in their major league careers—turned slugging along with Hector Lopez, slugger along with Hector Lopez, while Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, who have 70 career homers between them, punched singles Sunday in New York's 9-8 squeaker over Minnesota.

The Yankees' fourth straight triumph, along with Chicago's sweep of two with Cleveland 6-3 and 4-1, blasted New York into the American League lead again, the 10th time this season they've been on top.

Los Angeles fell 2½ games behind when Boston administered a 5-4 defeat to the slipping Angels. Detroit swept two from Baltimore 5-1 and 3-2 and pulled to within five games of the top. Kansas City outlasted Washington 6-5 in 15 innings.

In the National League, Los Angeles regained the lead with a 2-0 triumph over San Francisco. Stan Musial hit three home runs in St. Louis' 15-1 rout of New York; Pittsburgh and Philadelphia split, the Phillies taking the first 8-4, the Pirates the nightcap, 6-5; Milwaukee and Chicago divided, the Braves winning the nightcap 5-3 behind Warren Spahn after the Cubs took the opener 7-5; and Cincinnati won two from Houston, 12-8 and 12-11, the second in 13 innings.

Lopez' homer in the ninth with Maris on base staked New York to a 9-5 lead. Whitey Ford, however, walked the first two men he faced in the last of the ninth, and Don Mincher clubbed a three-run homer off Luis Arroyo to make it close. Ford (7-4) got the victory. Richardson and Tresh hit early in the ninth, and the bases empty, while singles by Maris and Mantle sparked a three-run New York seventh inning rally that broke a 4-4 tie. Harmon Killebrew and Volle Versalles hit homers for the Twins.

Charley Maxwell was the big run in the White Sox' sweep over Cleveland with six hits, including a homer and triple. The double loss snapped Cleveland's six-game winning string. Juan Pizarro (7-7) struck out nine and limited the Indians to seven hits in the opener, which was decided on Luis Aparicio's two-run homer. Sour unearned runs in the first inning of the nightcap made it easy for Ray Herbert (8-5).

Pete Runnels' eight-inning homer was the difference in Boston's conquest of Los Angeles—the Angels' third straight loss—and boosted the Red Sox first baseman into the league batting lead with a .340 average. The homer gave Boston a 5-2 lead, but Los Angeles rallied with two out in the ninth. Felix Torres and Tom Burgess singled and both scored on a double by pinch hitter Steve Bilko. Gene Conley relieved Bill Monbouquette (4-8) and retired the last man.

Jake Wood's hotly disputed triple, his fourth extra base hit of the day, in the ninth inning of the nightcap featured Detroit's double victory over Baltimore. Umpire Red Flaherty ruled Wood's long fly to right struck the screen while outfielder Russ Snyder was juggling it and Wood ended up with a triple. The Orioles argued for 10 minutes that it was caught cleanly. Moments later Bill Bruton singled Wood in with the winner.

Kansas City got its winning run in the 15th on an error. On an attempted squeeze play the batter missed the ball and catcher Ken Retzer trapped Jerry Lumpe, who had been on third, in a run-down. But Senator third baseman Ed Brinkman dropped Retzer's throw and Lumpe scooted home with the winner. Bud Zupfel put the Senators ahead with a solo homer in the 10th, but the A's matched it on a double by Norm Siebern and Jose Tartabull's single.

Although there is indirect evidence to suggest that fish can hear under water, there is no certainty that they do so.

Legion Beats Arkadelphia by 4 to 2

Friday night the Hope Junior American Legion outscored Arkadelphia 4 to 2 for their sixth win of the season.

In the 1st inning Jabo Horton, who made it to third on his hit, an error and a steal and Jerry Burnett, who was on by a fielder's choice and a steal, were hit in by a single from Buddy Jordan. The third inning saw Richard McDowell coming in on a single, a steal, a sacrifice and a single from Jack Russell. Horton, who walked, scored again in the 4th on a wild pitch.

The locals had six singles coming from Russell with 2, and one each from Horton, Jordan, McDowell and Robey.

Gus Robey was the winning hurler, who struck out 10, walked eight and gave up only 2 hits. He was relieved in the 7th by Carl McMurtrey who struck out two and allowed one hit.

Arkadelphia scored in the 3rd with Grigsby and their second came in the 6th by Smith. The losing pitcher was Paul Estes.

Samuels Is MFA Mutual Agent Here

Horace Samuels, of Hope, has been appointed local agent for the MFA Mutual Insurance Company, of Columbia, Mo., it is announced by J. M. Silvey, president of the company. He will also represent Countryside Casualty Co. and MFA Life Insurance Co.

"We are glad to enroll Horace Samuels as one of the many agents who are now serving the thousands of MFA Insurance policyholders in Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Nebraska, Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, Tennessee, Minnesota and Indiana," Silvey said.

"The sole purpose of MFA Insurance is to provide protection to policyholders," Silvey continued. "Claim service is quick, friendly and coast-to-coast. Types of insurance include auto, truck, farm liability, farm equipment, school bus, personal liability, hospital and surgical benefits, fire and extended coverage, general liability and workmen's compensation."

To enable him to be of maximum service to MFA Insurance policyholders, Samuels has just completed a thorough study of the companies and their policies.

Dodgers Win Lead, Beating Giants 2-0

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

With the National League lead at stake, the Los Angeles Dodgers cashed in with a pair of back-to-back aces—Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale.

The two pitching stars collaborated on a three-hit performance Sunday as the Dodgers climbed back to the top with a 2-0 triumph at San Francisco. Los Angeles edged a half game ahead of the giants and gained an even split in the key four-game set.

It took some doing, however, despite the superb pitching. Koufax, the left-handed strikeout specialist, with one no-hit victory this season, went five perfect innings and did not allow a hit until the seventh, when Jim Davenport and Orlando Cepeda singled.

The Dodgers finally cracked through southpaw Billy O'Dell for their two runs in the eighth, but Koufax failed to last. Drysdale, the 15-game winner who beat the Giants in the series opener Thursday, was called in to quell a ninth inning threat.

While the two pace setters were staging their tense but scintillating duel at Candlestick park, there were exploding elsewhere in the National League in some parting fireworks before the first All Star game break. Twenty-eight homers were hit, a one league high for an eight-game schedule, with 13 of them in Cincinnati, where the Reds swept the Houston Colts in the longest doubleheader in major league history. It took 8 hours and 7 minutes for Cincinnati to win 12-8 and 12-11 in 13 innings.

Stan Musial powered his way to a share of still another record, rapping three homers as St. Louis smothered the New York Mets 15-1. Third-place Pittsburgh shaded Philadelphia 6-5 after losing to the Phillies 8-4. And Milwaukee divided with Chicago, taking the second game 5-3 behind Warren Spahn after dropping the opener 7-5.

In the American League, New York regained the lead on a 9-8 squaker over Minnesota combined with Chicago's doubleheader sweep over Cleveland 6-3 and 8-4. Boston nipped Los Angeles 5-4; Detroit beat Baltimore twice, 5-1 and 3-2; and Kansas City overcame Washington in 15 innings, 6-5.

Cincinnati won the opener against Houston with a six-run fifth inning after trailing 0-3, then made three comebacks in the second game before winning it in the 13th on Marty Keough's homer and Leo Cardenas' bases loaded single. The Reds used nine pitchers in the overtime affair, which went 5 hours, minutes, and the two clubs totaled 3 hits for the day.

Frank Robinson had six Cincinnati hits, including a grand slam and another homer, scored eight times and batted in six runs.

Musial's three homers, plus one his last time up Saturday, gave him four in consecutive at bats and tied a major league mark shared by 12 other players. Cardinal right-hander Bob Gibson held the Mets to three hits and batted out three himself, one a homer.

Bob Clemente batted across three runs in the Pirates' victory, with his homer in the eighth inning proving the clincher. The Phils took the opener on Jack Baldschun's tight six innings of relief pitching and Clay Dalrymple's key hitting. John Callison of the Phils had five hits for the day, including a pair of homers.

Spahn finally won on the road, for the first time in 10 decisions away from home this season, posting career victory no. 317 with his 11th-hit against the Cubs. The 41-year-old southpaw, now 8-10 for the year, also singled across two

British Open to Begin in Scotland

TROON, Scotland (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, the new U.S. Open golf champion, struggled to a shaky 7 over the Troon course today in his first qualifying round for the British Open championship.

The score put the Columbus, Ohio, star in danger of failing to make the championship proper, starting Wednesday.

Nicklaus, who beat Arnold Palmer in a playoff for the U.S. crown, will play his second round Tuesday over the neighboring Loch Green course.

Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., fired a 69 over the Troon course. Paul Runyan of LaJolla, Calif., the PGA Seniors champion, had a 76.

A field of 356 of the world's best golfers began two days of qualifying today or the championship in which Palmer, one of 20 Americans, is defending champ.

Even the most confident professional and top ranking amateur admitted he was only chasing after mighty Arnold Palmer, of Latrobe, Pa., who is defending the title he won at Birkdale in England last year.

Gambler made the American master 2-1, the shortest price ever offered before a British Open, even in the days of Walter Hagen, Bobby Jones and Ben Hogan.

Behind Palmer, the odds-makers listed Jack Nicklaus, U.S. Open champ; Gary Player of South Africa; Peter Thomson and Kel Nagle of Australia; Gene Littler, the 1961 American Open king; and as an outsider, British Ryder Cup captain Dai Rees.

Palmer and Player were not as confident as their backers, nor was Nicklaus.

Dried out by drought and scorching wind, the Troon links baffled most of the stars in their tune-up rounds.

runs before Mack Jones clinched it with his fourth hit of the game—a homer in the eighth. George Altman and Andre Rodgers were the Cubs' big men in the first game, with five hits and five RBI between them.

All-Star game at Washington.

Bunning and Drysdale in the All-Star

By JOE REICHLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Right-handed aces Jim Bunning of Detroit and Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers were expected to be named starting pitchers today in Tuesday's All-Star game, the first of two midsummer meetings between the best players of the American and National leagues.

A capacity crowd of 45,015 was assured for this 32nd interleague spectacle, the third in Washington, the second here in six years and the first in the new $22-million D.C. Stadium. The game, starting at 12 noon (EST) will be broadcast and telecast by NBC.

The second game, which probably will mark the last of the two-game system begun in 1959, will be played in Chicago's Wrigley Field, Monday, July 30. The American League holds an overall 1 to 14 edge, but the Nationals have won four and tied one of the last six.

The odds-makers, who originally had tabbed the National League, a slight favorite, were now making it an even game probably because of the older circuit's loss of Henry Aaron. An ankle injury suffered last Friday forced the Milwaukee slugger off the squad.

NL Manager Fred Hutchinson picked Warren Spahn, the Braves' brilliant southpaw, to fill the void, thus giving him eight pitchers, the same number selected by Al Manager Ralph Houk. Spahn, 41, has appeared in seven previous All-Star games.

The loss of Aaron notwithstanding, the Nationals boasted an awesome hitting array led by Willie Mays, the league's home run leader; Tommy Davis, its batting and runs batted in champ, Orlando Cepeda, Roberto Clemente and Ken Boyer.

The American League's star-studded lineup is not without power hitters of its own. In the starting lineup will be the New York Yankees' M and M boys, Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, who have hit some 19 home runs between them in the last 15 games; Leon Wagner of the Angels, tied with Mays for the homer leadership of the majors, and slugger Jim Gentile of Baltimore.

A right-handed opening duel between Bunning and Drysdale would pit two pitchers who starred in past All-Star games.

The addition of Spahn, who won his eighth game of the season Sunday against 10 defeats, gives the Nationals a second left hander. The other is Sandy Koufax, who pitched the Dodgers to a 2-0 triumph over the Giants Sunday for his 13th victory against four defeats.

Drysdale, the majors' biggest winner with 15, co-headed Koufax' shutout, retiring the last two Giants in relief.

Eight of the 16 All-Star pitchers worked Sunday. Beside Spahn, Koufax and Drysdale, other National League pitchers who pitched Sunday were Bob Gibson (10-6) of St. Louis and Dick Farrell (5-8) of Houston, and American Leaguers Hank Aguirre (7-3) of Detroit and Hoyt Wilhelm (3-8) Baltimore.
